

Public Intervention - Queer

Aisa, George, Agata, Gab

Let's talk about queer (past, present, future)

QUEER PASTS

Even though we've only started talking about queerness recently, there are a multitude of examples of people practicing queerness throughout history!

DID YOU KNOW?	FOOD FOR THOUGHT
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• In Nepal polyamory (a woman having multiple male partners) used to be common practice.• In Ancient China many stories like The story of the cut sleeve, depict male homosexuality.• In Hinduism many deities do not conform to normative notions of sex and gender.• In Ancient Greece same-sex relationships were allowed to exist alongside heterosexual ones.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• In what ways do the above examples redefine popular narratives about queer lifestyles?• Can we use the queer tradition to examine the way we live our lives today?• Are people today allowed to love and express their gender freely?• In what ways do modern day institutions systemically stall queer ways of being?

SO MUCH QUEER IN 2022! (NETHERLANDS)

Article 1 of the dutch constitution states that "all persons in the Netherlands shall be treated equally" and forbids discrimination on any grounds whatsoever.

CULTURE - WHAT DO WE HAVE	CURRENT RIGHTS
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• WTF Queer Wednesdays @Vrankrijk• Gay Magazine - Hollands ONLY independent gay magazine	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Decriminalization of homosexuality in 1971• Anti-discrimination of sexual orientation in 1994• Equal marriage and adoption rights in 2001

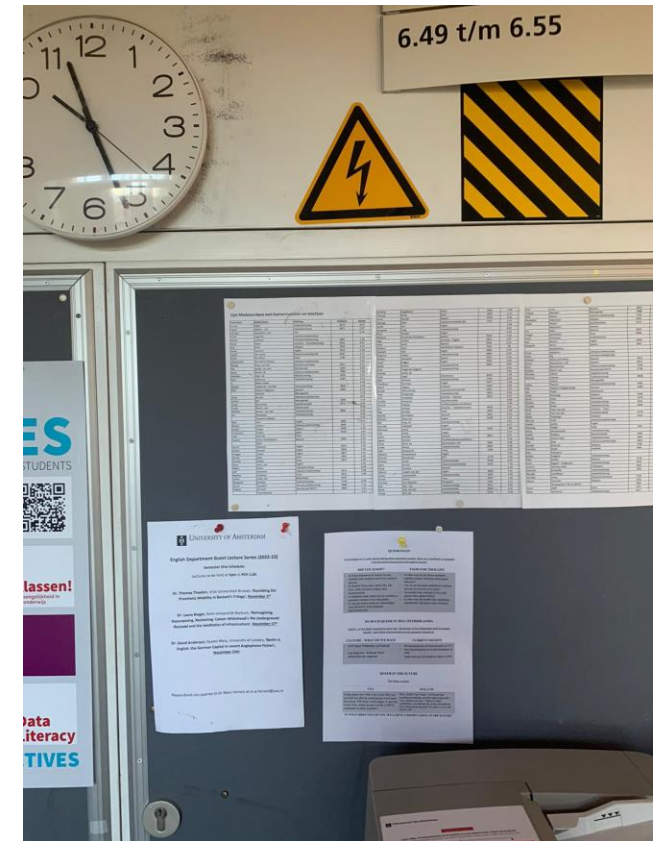

QUEER IN THE FUTURE

The future is queer.

USA	POLAND
A drag queen story time event in the Ohio was canceled due after an armed group of neo-nazis showed up. Will these events trigger an uprising of hate from similar groups towards LGBTQ+ community in other countries?	Will „LGBT Free Zones” in Poland start meaning something once the right-wing party wins another election ? There's a high probability, considering the rising homophobia that started growing under the party's Law and Justice rule.

IN WHAT DIRECTION DO YOU SEE LGBTQ+'S RIGHTS GOING IN THE FUTURE?

QUEER OUT
IN THE WILD!

WHAT WE LEARNED?

- Most people feel more free to express their love and gender only in certain environments (for example only around friends),
- People fear that the uprisings of right parties around the globe might affect LGBTQ+ community's situation,
- People feel it is too hard to get prescription for hormones,
- People in the Netherlands believe their national government effectively combats prejudice and intolerance against LGBTI people.

THANK YOU :-)
